

HUMANITIES MINOR (UNHM)

<http://manchester.unh.edu/academics/degree-programs/humanities-minor>

Description

The humanities minor is an interdisciplinary program where students can combine humanities courses and courses from other disciplines that form a multidisciplinary theme or topic. The humanities minor is an excellent way to add breadth of perspective to specialized study in particular disciplines. Many professions encourage students to develop skills and knowledge outside their area of professional interest. The humanities minor can meet this objective and make college education a more enlightening and rewarding experience. Students selecting a minor in humanities should, in consultation with a faculty adviser in humanities, identify a general theme or topic for the minor.

Requirements

To earn a minor in humanities, students must complete 20 credits with no individual grade lower than C in minor courses.

HIST 500	Introduction to Historical Thinking ¹	4
or ENGL 419	Introduction to Literary Analysis
Select at least two courses in the humanities (HUMA)		8
Select more courses in humanities (HUMA) or choose complementary courses from other disciplines, such as history, English, philosophy, communication arts, politics and society, or business, which contribute to the student's multidisciplinary theme or topic ²		8
Total Credits		20

¹ These courses provide an introduction to the methodology and content of the humanities.

² Select in consultation with a faculty adviser in humanities.

For more information, contact Phillip Deen at phillip.deen@unh.edu, minor supervisor.