Description

<http://manchester.unh.edu/academics/degree-programs/literary-arts-studies/professional-and-technical-communications-option>

Students in the Professional and Technical Communications option study to become accomplished digital-age communicators. You'll not only develop transferable skill-sets in oral and written communication that prepare you to excel in any professional environment, but you'll also learn to communicate and collaborate in specializations of your choice – including, among others, new media journalism, creative nonfiction, business writing, legal writing and research, and technical writing.

Requirements

For the Literary Arts and Studies: Professional and Technical Communication Option at UNH Manchester, students must complete a minimum of 128 credits and satisfy the University's Discovery Program and foreign language requirements, and complete a minimum of 40 credits in major coursework. The major requirements consist of a minimum of 10 courses. These 10 courses (40 credits) must include the Diversity requirement and the capstone requirement. Students in the major must earn C or higher to pass ENGL 419 Introduction to Literary Analysis, ENGL 502 Professional and Technical Writing, and ENGL 595 Literary Topics.
