Description

The Elementary Education program provides an M.Ed. degree and leads to certification for those who wish to teach in elementary schools.

- UNH students can begin preparation for teaching at the undergraduate level and continue to a fifth year* of studies.
- During the fifth year, students complete a full year of internship with professional course work in education.
- Students enrolled in an undergraduate degree program outside of the education department can move into a fifth year of study (with full-year internship) leading to an M.Ed. degree and licensure for teaching.

* With no prior course work in education, these programs will normally require two years to achieve licensure and a degree.

Students who have already completed a baccalaureate degree may also enter the teacher preparation program at the graduate level.

Admission Criteria

In determining admission of students to teacher education graduate programs, several criteria are used:

1. The undergraduate record. The undergraduate overall minimum grade point average for admission is 3.0. The undergraduate grade point average of students admitted to the graduate programs in teacher education is approximately 3.55 (based on 2020 admissions).
2. Positive recommendations from EDUC 500 Exploring Teaching, EDUC 935A Seminar and Practicum in Teaching or the equivalent and from those able to relay information about a candidate’s performance in teaching situations or related areas.
3. Praxis Core Academic Skills for Educators (Core) exam scores are required. Applicants must obtain, at a minimum, a qualifying score (as set by the state of New Hampshire at the time of testing) on all three (Reading, Writing, and Mathematics) Core exams in order to be considered for admission. Current NH qualifying scores may be found on the ETS Praxis Website under the “Tests required for all licensure areas” page.
4. Additional required application materials can be found at the Graduate School website under programs.

Requirements

The M.Ed. degree requires a minimum of 32 graduate credits. The exact number of credit hours will depend on the student’s academic background, competencies, and professional goals, and will be determined by the adviser.

Any Education course taken for a teacher licensure requirement must be completed with a grade of B- or better. This applies to any courses from other departments that have been designated as equivalent to an Education course.
