Description

About the Program
The Child Welfare Graduate Certificate Program is designed to educate individuals interested in improving the quality of life for children and families vulnerable to abuse and neglect. In addition, the certificate will provide additional pathways of preparation for students interested in careers in public child welfare and will aid in increasing valuable resources toward supporting children and families vulnerable to child abuse and neglect.

Who should apply?
• Individuals interested in improving the quality of life for children and families vulnerable to abuse and neglect
• Individuals receiving the Title IV-E grant
• Individuals interested in taking graduate courses at UNH with the option of applying credit toward a graduate degree in social work
• Individuals interested in advancing their career options or in developing a new career focus
