1 Students may arrange to take Media Practices (CA) courses at any time during the course of their academic programs after they have satisfactorily completed the three 400-level introductory courses. Thus, students may take the 500-level CA courses before, concurrently with, or after completion of CMN 500-level courses and/or CMN 600-level courses.

2 Visit our Internships webpage for procedures on how to arrange internships.

Capstone Requirement

The Discovery Program Capstone requirement may be fulfilled by completing any 700-level communication course except CMN 796.
Communication Major: Media Practices Option (B.A.)

CMN 795 can only fulfill the capstone requirement with department approval and can be repeated for a maximum of 8 credits.

Additional Information
- A maximum of 8 credits of CMN 795 Independent Study may be counted toward the major.
- CMN 799H and CMN 796 cannot be used to fulfill an advanced course requirement.

Transfer students
Must complete 20 credits of their communication coursework at UNH to complete the major satisfactorily. Exchange students may transfer no more than 10 approved credits from another institution to be applied toward completion of the communication major at UNH.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to describe the Communication discipline and its central questions. We expect students to be able to:
- Explain and synthesize the history of Communication theory.
- Articulate the differences between approaches within the discipline (media studies, language and social interaction, and rhetorical studies).
- Identify contemporary debates within the field.
- Distinguish Communication scholarship from other areas of study.
- Understand the role of Communication scholarship in society.
- Articulate the relevance of communication in civic life, including an ability to apply key concepts in the field to world events, situations, or problems.

Students will be able to think critically about communication processes by applying communication theories and concepts. We expect students to be able to:
- Identify theories, perspectives, principles, and concepts relevant to the discipline.
- Recognize academic writing, identify the work’s thesis, explain its method, assess the evidence used, and determine its significance.
- Engage with communicative patterns, processes, problems, and practices that they encounter in their personal, professional and civic lives.
- Acquire effective frameworks for describing, analyzing, reflecting upon, and engaging with those patterns, processes, problems, and practices.

Prepare students to become thoughtful and proficient communicators. We expect students to be able to:
- Become critical consumers of messages.
- Understand how meanings are constructed by speakers and audiences.
- Evaluate claims and arguments, and to be able to explain how they are grounded.
- Recognize the collaborative construction of meaning and its relation to social change.
- Explore the ways in which various forms of communication constitute, maintain, and transform social life.
- Formulate coherent arguments/theses, provide support for their perspectives, and communicate them clearly and logically.

- Select creative and appropriate modalities and technologies to accomplish communicative goals.
- Adapt messages and coordinate communication with others recognizing the diverse needs.
